U.S. Probation Officer Action:

The undersigned discussed the details of incident with Mr. Miller and T.J. Reportedly, Mr. Miller was unaware that T.J. filed a report or temporary restraining order against him until November 25, 2020. He confirmed they were involved in a verbal dispute; however, the details in the report are inaccurate. T.J. confirmed, the complaint may look "crazy;" however, she does not feel unsafe or in danger. According to T.J., she was upset at the time of Mr. Miller's surprise visit and out of anger she wanted to teach Mr. Miller a lesson; therefore, she purposely said things during the argument to anger Mr. Miller and intentionally filed the domestic violence report. Since the incident, Mr. Miller and T.J. decided they want to continue to work on their relationship and engage in healthier communication and coping mechanisms. At this time, we request that the Court consider taking no action. This will enable our office to monitor the status of the pending case and the health of their relationship, in order to make the most appropriate recommendation to the Court upon disposition of the charges.

Respectfully submitted,

SUSAN M. SMALLEY, Chief
U.S. Probation Officer
